I just sent these comments to Michael and then realized he asked us to send comments to this email address. Remediating that now.

Thanks!

Michael,

Thank you for the email. I appreciate the care with which you all have started this lengthy project, and also that you have created a webpage on DOJ's website that is easy to navigate for those of us following your work. I also think the criteria memo that you created is a very good framework for evaluating exemptions.

I am unfortunately unable to attend the meeting on Wednesday, but I do have some thoughts to share with the group, provided in the attached document. This is not a particularly thorough analysis, so I hope the group will excuse my brevity and informality. I do hope, however, that this at least provides you some helpful food for thought.

Thank you!

Kimberly McCullough, J.D.

Subject: Upcoming Oregon Sunshine Committee meeting

At its meeting on May 16, from 1-3 PM, the Oregon Sunshine Committee plans to consider, and possibly vote on, whether to make recommendations to the legislature concerning a number of exemptions that deal with personal contact information. Details of the exemptions being reviewed are posted at <https://www.doj.state.or.us/oregon-department-of-justice/public-records/public-records-reform/>. I am attempting to reach out to likely stakeholders to invite them to submit written comment to the Sunshine Committee (via email to SunshineCommittee@doj.state.or.us) and/or show up to testify at the meeting. (Time for in-person testimony will be limited, depending on how many people show up.) Please note that we will not be discussing exemptions for contact information that appear to be motivated by personal safety concerns, such as those for crime victims and prosecutors.

This is the group's first foray into substantive exemption review, so I cannot say with certainty how it will go, how much time there will be for in-person comments, or whether there will actually be time at this meeting for members to formulate thoughts on whether and to what extent it intends to recommend changes. Plus, as noted above, there are other exemptions that address contact information in slightly different context. And, like with many exemptions, some of these are not exclusively about one type of information. Both of these are complicating factors that the Committee will be dealing with for the first (but undoubtedly not the last) time. In other words your patience, as well as your participation, will be greatly appreciated.

Please feel free to pass this along to anyone you think may have an interest in providing feedback to the Sunshine Committee regarding this topic. I hope to see some of you in a couple of weeks.

Sincerely,

Michael Kron

Chair

Oregon Sunshine Committee
