

Application for Spousal Support Only Services

The Oregon Child Support Program provides child support services through the Oregon Department of Justice Division of Child Support and some county district attorney offices. We will enforce spousal support included with a child support order. If your order includes ongoing child support, stop here, and visit our website at OregonChildSupport.gov to enroll for child support services. We also can provide services to establish income withholding for payment of current spousal support. We call this "spousal support only" services.

To apply for spousal support only services, complete, sign, and date this application. Include proof of public assistance with your application and employment information for the paying party. Within two days of receiving your application, we will review it to determine if you qualify for services. If you do, we will set up your case and contact you if more information is needed.

The attachment provides important information about the Oregon Child Support Program.

You can take this completed application and proof of public assistance to your local child support office, email them to ChildSupportCaseIntake@doj.state.or.us, or mail them to:

Information about the Oregon Child Support Program

Your rights and responsibilities

- The Oregon Child Support Program complies with applicable federal and state civil rights laws and does not discriminate based on race, color, national origin, disability, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, or age.
- You are responsible for keeping us informed of your current address. If we cannot contact you, we may close your case. Your case may also be closed if you do not provide necessary information when asked.
- We will protect your personal information by following all state and federal laws and court requirements. If you do not want your address to be given to the other party or to appear in court records, contact us.
- When you call us or are completing forms, you may be asked for your case number or other identifying information so we can correctly identify your case.
- All parties have equal status in spousal support cases. Any party can ask questions, with or without assistance from a lawyer. Our responses may be limited if you are represented by a lawyer. We cannot act as a lawyer for any party. You should talk to a lawyer if you have any legal questions about your case. Low-cost legal services may be available. For more information, visit our website at OregonChildSupport.gov.

Safety concerns

The Oregon Child Support Program works hard to prevent the release of personal information about a party to the other party or to the public. We can take extra precautions if you think your health or safety is in danger. To learn how you can address safety risks, go to our website at OregonChildSupport.gov/safety. If you would like to speak with someone directly about a safety concern, contact Customer Service at 800-850-0228 or visit any child support office.

How we disburse spousal support payments

We receive, record, and send the payment to the party who is owed support.

Grievance process

Our goal is to give you fair, professional, courteous, and accurate service. If you believe you did not receive high-quality service from one of our offices, contact a supervisor at that office. If you are unable to resolve the issue with the supervisor, you may contact Constituent Services at 503-947-4337. You can also submit a grievance form at any time. The form is available at any Oregon Child Support Program office and on our website at OregonChildSupport.gov.

If your complaint is about a decision or action required by federal or state law, we may not be able to resolve the issue. We will explain the reason for our decision.
